We'll Vote for Sen. McClellan

We'll vote for the re-election of U.S. Senator John L. McClellan in the runoff next Tuesday, June 13.

You'll vote as you choose—our God-given American privilege.

But I would like to point out that your newspaper doesn't regard the campaign for the United States Senate as a mere popularity contest. In any male beauty competition young David Pryor would knock rugged old John McClellan into a cocked hat.

A senatorial election, unlike any other campaign, makes it advisable for the voter to consider top-level strategy rather than personal preference. Your editor's policy has borne out this precept down through the years.

We supported John McClellan, a conservative, from the beginn' But for strategic reasons—r inclination—we also sur Fulbright, a liberal, from tl 1944.

Sometimes Bill Fulbright made it pretty tough for a country editor to keep on supporting him—but we took it in stride: Policy before preference.

Why this policy?

Well, Arkansas has representation in Congress all out of proportion to the population of this minor and relatively poor state. In the Senate it has McClellan with all the committee power acquired in 30 years' service; Fulbright with 28 years' seniority and the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee—and in the House Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the Ways & Means Committee, the most powerful single unit in American government.

You would think a state blessed with this fortunate array of power would leave a good thing alone. This is the real question the voters must ask themselves next Tuesday, June 13.

Arkansas is a commonwealth of farmers and small businessmen. I can't imagine it voting against John McClellan and for Big Labor and the school political crowd, both of which have endorsed David Pryor.

McClellan is a conservative, at times sitting very tight on the federal paper-money chest. That's enough to have earned him the enmity of the political school crowd.

McClellan has been a racketeer-buster known from coast to coast. That's enough to make him Big Labor's mortal enemy.

Can they bring him down in next Tuesday's election? I ask you.

Vietnamese Bomb Own People

TRANG BANG, Vietnam (AP) — An accidental napalm drop by South Vietnamese bombers sent scores of horror-struck women, children and government soldiers running down Highway 1 today. Some were unable to escape the flaming jellied gasoline that clung to their bodies.

One little girl ripped all of the clothing off her body and ran naked with several other children crying and screaming. The skin was burned off her back.

An old woman clutched her charred child, seeking help. A South Vietnamese husband carried his wife piggy-back away from the devastation. She had been sprayed with the napalm.

Some soldiers lay along the highway, their bodies burned. Flames spread across the highway 50 yards from a Cao Dai temple when the napalm exploded.

The South Vietnamese bomb-

Augusta Teachers File Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit filed in U.S. District Court here Wednesday by four blacks alleges that Augusta School District officials have systematically discriminated against black teachers.

Plaintiffs are Samuel Hunt, Hazel Tabron, Ruthie Moffett and George Edwards.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today proclaimed June 14 to be Flag Day and designated the week of June 11 as National Flag Week.

Urban Unit Reports on Purchases

The Hope Housing and Housing and Urban Renewal Authority issued the following statement today:

Since the last report of April 28, the following things have been accomplished:

Offers to purchase have been made on all but two pieces of property. These two will be made during the week of June 5.

The score board looks this way:

We have bought 13 pieces of property; 57 have accepted the 10 pieces will probably go to the city; of these five have not accepted the offer due to a variety of reasons, none of which to our knowledge is "price offered".

The new homes for two relocatees will be ready by June 15 or before. One is on Sixth and Hazel St.; the other on South Walker St.

Several businesses are in the workload and will be relocated

Hairnets Put To New Use

BONN (AP) — West German soldiers aren't allowed to wear their hair long any longer, but the $110,000 the army spent for hairnets won't be wasted, government spokesman Wilhelm Berkhan told the lower house of parliament.

The nets, worn to keep long locks out of the guns and machinery, will be used as camouflage covering for the soldiers' steel helmets, he said Wednesday.

Berkhan defended Defense Minister Helmut Schmidt's order allowing military personnel to wear hair as long as they liked. He said it was issued at the height of the long-hair fad and prevented "great psychological damage."

"We didn't want to draw the anger of beat bands by shearing the drummer's hair during his service period," he commented.

The fad has waned, and the armed forces returned to GI length last month.

Pryor Blasts Underground Campaigning

By ROBERT SHAW Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. David Pryor says that he expects attacks against him in the last days of the campaign that have the private approval of Sen. John L. McClellan but not his public endorsement.

"A lot of his attack is not going to be open," Pryor said. "It won't be in the form of speeches and press conferences. It won't be on television. It's going to be by letter, by leaflets, by handbills, by word of mouth, by rumors."

"It will carry with it the McClellan blessing, but not the McClellan shield."

Pryor places in this category the "Dear Friends" letter circulated by Jim Johnson of Conway branding McClellan's opponents as "sniveling liberals" and a "mess of trash" and endorsing the senator in his Democratic runoff battle with Pryor in Tuesday's election.

McClellan Wednesday disavowed Johnson's letter, saying that he objected to "some terminology" used by the former state Supreme Court justice.

The senator also claimed that it would be by oversight if any campaign literature circulated by McClellan forces goes unsigned.

Pryor complained Wednesday that a "report" on his voting record that is being distributed at McClellan campaign offices was unsigned, which he said raised a question of a possible violation of state or federal law requiring that campaign literature be signed.

The congressman said in an interview that the campaign took on a new complexion in the runoff race when McClellan assumed the offensive, criticizing Pryor's record and his alleged "obligation" to "national labor bosses." In the first primary, McClellan had stressed his 30 years of Senate seniority, his power and influence and his own record for getting things done for Arkansas.

Mong McClellan's criticisms is that Pryor, in his six years in the U.S. House, has passed only one bill, and that to benefit an unnamed private corporation.

Pryor said he had no idea how many bills he had passed during his tenure. He said he recalled several measures of which he was co-author, including a drug abuse education bill.

Ask Support for War on Air Pirates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) today asked all union workers to join in boycotting airlines of nations that sanction skyjackers and air extortionists.

At the same time, the union said it has arranged for special training for its 46,000 members from the FBI on how to handle air pirates. The training, he indicated, will mean a tougher attitude toward air criminals.

James F. Takach, 18, of Rayland, Ohio, released from the Army in Louisiana, lost control of his car, which hit a sign beside the highway. The gasoline tank was sheared away.

Takach got out of the car and walked off, police said.

Jaun Cano, 22, of Gravel Ridge drove onto the scene moments later. His car hit Takach's gasoline tank, which exploded, setting the Cano car afire. Cano, his wife and two children escaped.

Trooper John Chappelle of the State Police and deputies from the sheriff's offices of Saline and Pulaski counties arrived and began controlling the traffic flow in the area.

But a tractor-trailer rig going north got past a deputy sheriff, who alerted Chappelle by radio. The deputy said the truck was headed toward Chappelle's patrol car at a high rate of speed. The Cano family was in the car. Chappelle leaped in and moved the car out of the way.

The truck driver was arrested.

Disavows Johnson Statement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, seeking the Democratic nomination for a sixth term, disavowed Wednesday the attack by Jim Johnson on supporters of McClellan's foe, Rep. David Pryor.

But the senator told newsmen in Conway that he welcomed the support of everyone, including Johnson.

In Rogers, meanwhile, Pryor was telling friends at a reception that tactics of Johnson would be "repudiated by the people" in Tuesday's runoff election for the senatorial nomination.

Johnson became an issue in the campaign when he distributed about 1,000 copies of a letter urging Arkansans to work for the re-election of McClellan.

The letter characterized Pryor as a "glamour boy" and said his supporters were a "mess of trash."

McClellan said he would not agree with Johnson's description of the Pryor backers. The senator said many "good people" were supporting Pryor, and that he respected their right to do so.

Johnson, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee, said he did not consult with McClellan before writing the letter. The senator also said he did not solicit the endorsement by Johnson.

"But don't misunderstand me, I welcome the support of every voter," McClellan said.

He said the campaign should be conducted on issues, not personalities.

Pryor said that the emergence of Johnson in McClellan's campaign would play a "key and vital" role in the outcome of Tuesday's primary.

The congressman added that he would "need a calculator to count all of the charges being hurled at me at this time."

In the primary Tuesday, the voters will "say very loud and very clear...that this state wants, deserves and needs a change in the U.S. Senate..." Pryor said.

Showers Fail to Break Drouth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered thundershowers broke out across Arkansas Wednesday afternoon but rainfall amounts were not enough to relieve drought conditions throughout the state.

State Police reported a thunderstorm in Phillips County which produced small hail and strong winds. There was no damage reported.

The National Weather Service said afternoon and early evening thundershowers were expected to be widely scattered again late today and Friday with little increase in area coverage.

Increasing cloudiness today was expected to hold daytime temperatures a few degrees lower than the past couple of days.

Fantastic Accident Tale

A vacationing Texas state trooper stopped by the scene and noticed some photographs in the Takach car. Later, at a truck stop, the Texan recognized Takach from the photos in his car.

He took Takach into custody and turned him over to the Arkansas State Police. Takach was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, reckless driving, driving without a license, failure to report an accident and failure to administer aid.

Muskie's Support May Be Thrown to Senator McGovern

Southerner on Ticket Welcomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, planning a campaign swing through the South, says a Dixie running mate "would be helpful" assuming he were qualified to take over the White House without a major change in policy.

Gov. Reubin Askew of Florida and former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina came to McGovern's mind in an interview the day before he defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in the California Democratic presidential primary.

Humphrey, in the wake of that loss and McGovern victories in three other primaries Tuesday, also talked about a possible running mate Wednesday. He reversed himself and said Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace would be acceptable to him if Wallace endorsed the party's platform at the Democratic convention in Miami Beach next month.

In the interview, McGovern, now the clear front runner for the nomination, also named Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota as potential vice-presidential candidates.

Before flying back from California to Washington Wednesday night, McGovern said he will make his Southern trip before the June 20 New York primary. Aides said that probably means the latter part of next week.

When asked about a running mate, McGovern said someone "well qualified to take over the White House on a moment's notice" whose views are in the "same ballpark as mine" is needed.

McGovern Now Has Two-Thirds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern piled on his California winners' spoils of 271 convention delegates for a count near two-thirds the 1,509 needed to win the Democratic presidential nomination in Miami Beach next month.

By beating Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in the California primary Tuesday, McGovern took all that state's delegates plus 97 from other states for a total of 907½.

Humphrey, and McGovern meanwhile, passed Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in popular votes won in 16 primaries. The totals: Humphrey 4,051,340; McGovern 3,950,394; and Wallace 3,612,650. Many of Wallace's write-in votes have yet to be counted, however.

In delegate totals Wallace is second with 328 and Humphrey narrowly in third place with 313½. There are reports Sen. Edmund S. Muskie will suggest on Friday his 166 delegates go to McGovern. Some 470½ delegates are uncommitted.

On the Republican side, President Nixon has sewn up re-nomination with 854 delegates, 180 more than required for nomination.

Won't Get Ticket

SANDY, Utah (AP) — Stanford McDonald, 5, rode his bicycle in front of a car and suffered minor injuries.

He looked up tearfully from a stretcher taking him to a hospital and asked his parents: "Do you think they'll give me a ticket?"

Police assured him they wouldn't.

Court's Turn to Right Confuses

By BARRY SCHWEID Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest Supreme Court turn toward the right in criminal law appears to leave confused the rules for questioning suspects.

According to a 5-4 decision by the court on Wednesday, police do not have to provide a lawyer when they put an arrested suspect in a lineup or a showup for identification.

And yet, under the 1966 Miranda decision, the suspect is entitled to a lawyer from the moment stationhouse interrogation begins.

The two decision appear to be in some conflict. Presumably, the suspect would be granted a lawyer when the interrogation began, but if police chose later to bring in witnesses for identification the lawyer would have to step out of the room.

A possible approach the police now might take in light of the new ruling would be to put off questioning until after the lineup, shutting out the lawyer until then. In the process, they might pick up a solid identification. And that could be as valuable at trial as a confession.

Complicating the situation still further is the 1967 Wade decision in which the court ruled 6 to 3 that once a suspect has been indicted he cannot be placed in a lineup unless a lawyer is on hand.

What this decision and the one Wednesday in a case from Chicago add up to is this: If the suspect has been indicted, he is entitled to a lawyer at the lineup. If he has been arrested but not indicted, he is not entitled to a lawyer at the lineup.

Add to this the fact that under Miranda he is entitled to a lawyer during interrogation and you have a complicated situation.

In a dissenting opinion signed also by Justices William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall, Justice William J. Brennan questioned the court's logic. A fourth justice, Byron R. White, said the court should have applied the Wade decision to the Chicago case. It involved an arrested suspect, Thomas Kirby, identified in a fact-to-face stationhouse showup by a

Muskie to Announce Move Friday

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr. Associated Press Writer

Sen. George S. McGovern's quickening race for the Democratic presidential nomination was boosted today by the growing possibility that fallen front-runner Sen. Edmund S. Muskie would release his delegates and lend his support.

Sources indicated Wednesday that the Maine senator would abandon entirely this campaign and support McGovern. NBC and the New York Times reported that the word could come when Muskie addresses the National Press Club in Washington on Friday.

Muskie's support and the 166 delegates his candidacy collected before it faltered could put McGovern within grasping distance of the all-important figure of 1,509, the number of delegates needed to win the nomination in Miami-Beach in July.

Even before word of Muskie's possible move began to circulate, McGovern was allowing himself the luxury of speculating that a first-ballot victory in Miami is possible after defeating his chief rival, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, in the pivotal California primary, as well as three others Tuesday.

For his part, Humphrey was acknowledging only that his chances were "not what I would call the best." He said he has a good chance on a second or third convention ballot and would have a better chance against President Nixon in November than would McGovern.

Stewart said Muskie and McGovern talked by telephone Wednesday but he did not know what was discussed.

holdup victim.

Speaking for the majority, Justice Potter Stewart concluded this 6th Amendment right takes hold only beginning with a formal charge, preliminary hearing, indictment, information or arraignment.

With the decision the court snapped a string of rulings extending the right to counsel.

However, in a case from Tennessee, the court settled on the side of defendants. Struck down was an 1887 state law requiring defendants who wish to testify to take the stand before other defense witnesses.

Justice Brennan, heading a 6-3 majority, said he realized a defendant might color his testimony by what had gone before. That, he said, was a matter best left to the jury's judgment.

In a third, 7-0 ruling, the court barred the states from indefinitely committing to a mental institution criminal defendants found incompetent by psychiatrists to stand trial.

The decision, by Blackmun, said it is unconstitutional to make it easier to commit a criminal suspect than the mentally ill and feeble-minded and to make it tougher for a suspect to win his release.

Gold Hits Record Price for 3rd Day

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold rocketed to record highs on Europe's bullion markets for the third straight day today. The U.S. dollar weakened on foreign exchange markets.

In London, gold was fixed at $66.75 an ounce this morning, a jump of $1.75 from Wednesday night's closing price of $65.

In Zurich, the other major bullion center in Europe, gold opened at a new high of $65-$66 an ounce, up from Wednesday's close of $64.75-$65.25.

The wider spread in Zurich between the buying and selling price, $1 instead of 50 cents, was designed to discourage speculators, dealers said.

In Frankfurt, the price jumped to $66.50-$67.25 after the London fixing.

The dollar weakened slightly in Zurich to 3.8305-3.8315 Swiss francs, down from 3.8355-3.8365 Wednesday.

In Frankfurt the dollar opened at 3.1750 marks, down from 3.1767.

The dollar was also marginally off on other markets, but there was no early evidence of a rush to sell.

Dealers cite a number of reasons for the recent steady climb in gold prices.

McGovern

An Uncompromising Stance

By DON HORINE
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — With more youth and minority delegates than ever before, the Democratic National Convention may be stronger on debate than compromise, say some of Sen. George McGovern's California delegates.

"I think these people are so idealistic and independent minded that they'll refuse to make any compromises whatsoever," Mike Herrera, a 26-year-old delegate from suburban Torrance, said in an interview Wednesday.

"If there should be a deadlock, it will be an absolute stalemate. I can't see these people, now that they've got a voice after working so hard,

Hope Given Up for 424 in Mine

WANKIE, Rhodesia (AP) — Hope has been abandoned for the 424 coal miners trapped for two days in the Wankie coal mine, the chairman of the company announced today. The bodies of seven men have been recovered, and eight workers were injured.

The chairman, Sir Keith Acutt, said the rockfalls and damage to the ventilation system resulting from three massive explosions Tuesday and the poisonous air that filled the mine afterward "leaves no cause for hope."

He said all indications were that the men died instantly.

A death toll of 431 would be Africa's second worst mining disaster, exceeded only by the 437 killed in 1960 at Coalbrook, South Africa.

changing their minds no matter what kind of a deal anybody offers them."

Under reform rules, the delegates to the July convention in Miami Beach are required to approximate the population of the state they represent.

More than 40 per cent of the 271 persons chosen for the California delegation won by McGovern in Tuesday's primary are blacks, Mexican-Americans and Asian-Americans.

Women compose 52 per cent of the delegation and 40 per cent of the delegates are under 30.

The result will be a more democratic convention—possibly more emotional, acrimonious and protracted, some delegates said.

"I think this will be the most wide-open convention ever," said Jeff Hare, 58, who was on the steering committee that chose the delegates.

"I think the quarrels on the committees will be horrendous because people won't be at all anxious for peace and tranquility—they'll be more anxious about things that have plagued them all their lives. It will be far more liberal and radical than any convention ever held by any party in the history of

Week's Death Toll in War Is 11

SAIGON (AP) — Eleven Americans were killed in action last week, 20 were wounded, and 2 died of nonhostile causes, the U.S. Command announced today.

The U.S. figures reflected little change from preceding weeks. This was in contrast to soaring South Vietnamese casualties in the ground war, where they have taken over the bulk of the fighting.

An unofficial tabulation indicated that 95 Americans have been killed in air and ground action and 266 have been wounded since the North Vietnamese offensive began March 30.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced the highest government death toll in six weeks—912 troops killed in action—plus 3,281 wounded and 274 missing.

This raised South Vietnamese casualties since the offensive began to 7,345 killed and 23,752 wounded.

The Saigon command claimed 4,314 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, raising to 39,547 the total number of enemy soldiers killed since March 30.

Education Bill Splits House

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A massive education bill with its antibusing provision comes up for a vote today in a sharply divided House of Representatives.

Supporters of the bill, which would authorize $21.3 billion over the next three years for a wide variety of education programs, predict the House will send it to President Nixon.

But an uneasy coalition of civil-rights supporters and busing foes, who are opposing the bill, and an unusually large number of fence-straddlers make the outcome uncertain.

Despite the multibillion-dollar provisions in the 229-page bill, the focal point of sharp controversy surrounding it is a single paragraph that would prevent any desegregation orders of a federal court from being carried out until Jan. 1, 1974, unless all appeals have been exhausted.

Civil-rights groups, contending the provision would effectively halt court-ordered desegregation, are urging defeat of the entire package in order to eliminate the provision.

Antibusing forces, seeking even stricter controls over the courts, want to defeat the bill so the way will be clear to offer a stronger proposal.

The House already has approved stronger antibusing legislation that was watered down in a Senate-House conference that agreed on the provision now in the bill.

Since the compromise was agreed to on May 17 both sides have been waiting to see what the White House and Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan are going to do. They are still waiting.

At a GOP caucus on the bill Wednesday, Ford said he had not yet made up his mind and that the White House also was still undecided. No party position was taken.

Although Northern liberals and Southern conservatives are against the bill, their opposing positions on busing have prevented them from working together and no one has accurately gauged their combined strength.

Wallace to Attend Convention

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace, partially paralyzed from an assassination attempt, will come to the Democratic National Convention to bargain for the presidency and a platform, according to his campaign director.

"Most Democrats and party bosses now realize that Gov. Wallace is going to have to participate in the election or the Democratic ticket doesn't have a chance in November," said Charles Snider, Wallace's top strategist.

Snider, credited with modernizing the Alabama governor's campaign and steering it away from the third-party route Wallace took in 1968, made the prediction at a news conference Wednesday.

Questioned about Wallace's possible support of a Democratic ticket headed by frontrunning presidential hopeful Sen. George McGovern, Snider said: "Gov. Wallace is withholding his comment on this until the other candidates make their positions known."

"There is still a marked difference between the positions of Gov. Wallace and some of the other candidates on the war, amnesty for draft dodgers and the legalization of marijuana. This will give you an idea of some of the things these candidates might have to change before they could have Gov. Wallace's support."

Snider said the extent of Wallace's personal participation during the July 10-13 convention had not been determined but "if there is any way at all, we expect him to take his turn at the podium."

Wallace was shot while campaigning at a Laurel, Md., shopping center last month. Since the shooting, which left him paralyzed from the hips down, he has been recovering in a Maryland hospital.

Devil Is Real Enemy, Says Graham

By RICK KIRKPATRICK
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If the church is to deal with the seemingly insoluble problems of modern man, it must recognize the reality of the devil and act to counter him, evangelist Billy Graham told the 125th annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention Wednesday night.

"The church will remain impotent until it sees that our enemy is the devil," Graham told the more than 13,000 delegates gathered in Convention Hall.

"Our problem in America is a spiritual problem," Graham asserted. "The devil himself is operating in our country with a supernatural power beyond human ability to cope with. That is why our problems seem insoluble."

The 53-year-old evangelist called on his fellow Baptists to light a candle that "will banish moral and spiritual blight in America... and roll back racism and social injustice."

Graham told his audience that the '70s have been marked by a resurgence of attention to God.

"During the last decade people went wild about the Beatles and few disputed their claim to being more popular than Jesus Christ," he commented. "Yet this decade started with songs about Jesus."

Graham said the Baptists have much to learn from the "youthful, energetic, vital religious organizations" which are emerging throughout the nation.

"There is also a danger that we will hang on to dead forms of worship and evangelism rather than seeking for new and powerful instruments of communicating the faith," he remarked.

Rail Tunnel Blown Up in N. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes pounded North Vietnam on Wednesday with the heaviest raids in three weeks, the U.S. Command announced, and one group of planes guided a bomb into a railroad tunnel just south of the Chinese border and blew it up.

American B52 bombers returned to North Vietnam for the first time in nearly two months, the command said, but they struck less than 20 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

In South Vietnam, the Communist offensive began its 11th week, and several hundred North Vietnamese troops pushed into the district town of Trang Bang 25 miles northwest of Saigon. This kept the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway closed for the third day and triggered fierce fighting.

On the northern front above Hue, more than 2,000 South Vietnamese marines launched their fourth spoiling and intelligence-gathering operation in a month into Quang Tri Province. Initial reports said they met only light resistance. The marines were supported by a task force of U.S. cruisers and destroyers and scores of American bombers.

The U.S. Command said American fighter-bombers flew more than 300 strikes across North Vietnam as clearing weather made intensified raids possible. U.S. pilots had been flying fewer than 300 strikes a day during the past three weeks.

The major targets Wednesday were a 600-foot tunnel through which the northeast rail line passes 20 miles south of the Chinese border, and vehicle maintenance and storage depots four miles from the center of Hanoi. It was the second successive day that U.S. jets attacked the rail line close to the border.

early in June.

A public hearing was held on a change in the plan moving a park from one location to another. Objection to the new location was made by the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church at Fifth and Laurel. The Area B, P.A.C. group approved the change at its meeting.

On June 1, we advertised an auction sale on the Katherine Lauterbach structures. One to be demolished (the residence) and one to be moved off (the garage apartment).

The highlight of activity in the design sessions with Thomas Hodges, and the architect on the downtown redevelopment will be the week of June 5 thru 9. All property owners and businessmen should participate in these discussions. There will be noon and night meetings with groups by streets at the old Montgomery Market next to Crescent Drug, go by and state your ideas. Twenty-five attended the opening session.

Sparkle Plenty Out Of Race

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Sparkle Plenty won't be running for Congress in November. The Santa Fe waitress, whose candidacy lived the Democratic race for nomination to the U.S. House from District 1, was running fifth in a five-way race in Tuesday's primary.

The winner was Eugene Gallegos.

Miss Plenty, who adopted the name made famous by the character in the Dick Tracy comic strip, ran for Congress when a customer suggested that she do so.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. TIMONTHY THOMAS ROSS

Miss Janis Yvonne Rhodes became the bride of Timonthy Thomas Ross on Friday evening, May 26 in the Oak Grove United Methodist Church in Hope. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rhodes of Delight and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Ross of Hope.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire styled gown of bonded crepe and bridal satin. The Victorian neckline, bodice front and skirt front were trimmed with appliques of Alencon lace and scattered seed pearls. The bishop sleeves and bodice back were accented with tiny pearl buttons and the satin chapel train was fastened at the back waist. The cathedral veil of illusion was attached at the head by a Juliet cap trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Rev. Connie A. Robbins performed the double ring ceremony. Music was provided by Miss Marsha Miller of Little Rock, pianist and by soloist, Miss Sarah Dawson of Ola, Arkansas. Miss Karen Rhodes was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Sheila Rhodes, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Lighting the candles was Miss Brenda Rhodes of Delight, cousin of the bride. Attending the bride's book was Miss Patricia Harris, cousin of the bride.

Quinton Hornsby of DeQueen served as best man. Randall Ross, brother of the groom, served as groomsman. Wayne Ross, cousin of the groom, of Magnolia lighted candles. Guests were seated by Calvin Underwood and Phil Ross of Hope.

A reception followed the wedding in the church. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Belinda Miller of Hope, Miss Kay Biven of Gurdon, Miss Mary Beth Mann of Carthage and Miss Wanda Whisnant of Gillham.

After a short trip the couple will make their home in Fayetteville where both are students at the University of Arkansas.

Guests from out of town included: Kay Biven, and Marsha McMillan, Gurdon, Wanda Whisnant, Gillham, Sherry Arnold, Arkadelphia, Alicia Gattis, Ozark, Monica Ritz, Siloam Springs and Marcia Miller, Little Rock.

Linda Via and Sarah Dawson, Ola, Mary Beth Mann, Carthage, Paula Evans, Hampton, Tommy Scott, Thornton, Quinton Hornsby, DeQueen, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Waits, Teresa and Jeff, Little Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Ross, Sharon and Wayne of Magnolia, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rhodes and Lisa of Delaplaine, Ark.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Melba Moore-Clifton Davis Show" had its debut on CBS Wednesday night, the first of five programs replacing the "Carol Burnett Show."

The two stars, young, vibrant and talented, were able to surmount the tired material that surrounded them.

Summer programs let networks give a chance to new talent, an opportunity grasped rather infrequently but an act that should be encouraged.

Miss Moore and Davis, off-stage lovers who made their relationship explicit at the opening of the show, came into the nation's living rooms with warmth and impact—when they were singing together. CBS, probably in an effort to hedge its bets, put them into a format containing all the Hollywood musical-variety cliches.

Thus one encountered two fresh, eager performers in the opening segment unflinchingly reading cutesy lines from the cue cards with something less than Actors' Studio skills. The nonmusical parts were strictly from a comedy writers' well-thumbed notebook. At one point Davis recited the hours at which the Flip Wilson program, "Sanford and Son" and their own program was broadcast, 8 p.m. EDT. Melba moved in for the clincher: "Do you think there's a curfew for us black people?"

The variety hour's premise was an apartment house in which Melba and Clifton have apartments. The landlady is Mims Mabley—who had no more than a half-dozen lines. Also present are a comic handyman and a couple of strange tenants.

The format and the dialogue were tired, but the show really took off and soared when Miss Moore, sometimes alone and sometimes with Davis, got around to singing. They were moments worth suffering for.

"The Melba Moore-Clifton Davis Show" may not have been an unqualified success, but one must be grateful for the chance they have been given.

Hostesses were Mesdames Earl Downs, Billy Anderson, Brooks Collins, Jessie J. Brown, and Raymon Powell. They served frosted lime punch, cookies, nuts and mints from a table overlaid with a white cloth trimmed with lace. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink daisies, white daisies and gardenias.

The guest of honor received many lovely and useful gifts from the 35 who called during the appointed hours.

Miss Linda Tarpley
A miscellaneous shower for Miss Linda Tarpley, bride-elect of Darrell Smith, was held Friday, June 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Spring Hill United Methodist Church. The honoree wore blue knit and pinned a white carnation corsage at her shoulder.

Traveling game prizes went to Betty Arnold, Gladys Smith and Virginia O'Neal. The leader, Linda Bell, invites anyone who is interested in losing weight to come to a meeting of the TOPS Club any Monday night at 7 p.m. in the Douglas Building.

TOPS Club Meets
The Arkansas TOPS Club No. 94 welcomed a new member, Carolyn Taylor of Fulton, at its weekly meeting on Monday, June 5 in the Douglas Building. Mae Collins was crowned Queen of the Week, and Kay Chambliss was given the distinction, Queen of the Month.

Names were drawn for a Buddy to continue for a month and for a Secret Pal to last until Christmas. There were 21 present, and Side 2 was ahead in the Bean Contest. Betty Bain's name was drawn for the Ha-Ha Box. Mae Meloy read the minutes and called the roll in the absence of Margaret Polk.

Medical Crisis Leads to Tragedy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Short of money to pay the medical expenses of his ailing wife, 81-year-old Elisha Campbell invited relatives and friends to his home to discuss the problem.

"I think I have a solution," Campbell told the group after a short discussion. "Mom and I have lived too long."

He then stalked into a bedroom, pulled out a .32-caliber pistol and fired two shots. Police said one shot ended 81-year-old Elisha Campbell's life. The other ended his own.

Perez Drives in Four Runs

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I like to see those men on base when I get up to bat," Tony Perez said. There weren't any there when he was finished.

For a change, Cincinnati's Johnny Bench wasn't hitting. But it wasn't his fault. The New York Mets were pitching around him. But that only brought up Perez. And the Reds' first baseman didn't mind a bit.

He drove in four runs Wednesday night, three of them in the first inning with a strategy-wrecking double, that powered Cincinnati's newest version of the Big Red Machine to a 6-3 victory over the fading Mets.

In the rest of the National League, Pittsburgh bombed San Diego 12-5, then squeezed out a 1-0 victory for a sweep in the 18-inning nightcap. Philadelphia beat Houston 3-1, Montreal defeated Atlanta 5-2, the Chicago Cubs whipped Los Angeles 5-1 and St. Louis silenced San Francisco 6-0.

In the American League, California defeated Detroit 5-1, the Chicago White Sox edged Boston 2-1, Baltimore blasted Minnesota 11-2, Oakland clubbed Cleveland 9-4, the New York Yankees tripped Texas 7-5 and Kansas City slipped by Milwaukee 5-4.

The Pirates had little trouble with the Padres in the opener of their twill. Willie Stargell drove in five runs with his 12th and 13th homers to lead a 20-hit assault on five San Diego hurlers.

Dave Cash also homered for the Bucs while Nate Colbert and pinch-hitter Jerry Morales put it over the wall for the Padres.

But the second game was a study in contrast. Pittsburgh starter Dock Ellis departed after nine scoreless innings of three-hit hurling. And after 13, San Diego starter Clay Kirby left after yielding eight hits and no runs.

The Bucs won it—and moved within 2½ games of the Mets in the National League East—in the 18th inning on infield hits by Al Oliver and Stargell, a double steal, an intentional walk and Mike Corkins' unintentional bases-loaded walk to Gene Alley.

The Phils finally won a game only their second in 21—to snap a nine-game tailspin. "God, what a difference winning makes!" said overjoyed Manager Frank Lucchesi.

Mike Jorgensen drove in three runs with a bases-loaded triple in the third inning to power Montreal past Atlanta. Burt Hooton of the Cubs gave up 13 hits—but all of them were singles. And only one of them, Frank Robinson's, resulted in a run for the Dodgers.

The only two hits Chicago needed were Carmen Fanzone's three-run homer and Billy Williams' two-run shot.

Reggie Cleveland fired a five-hitter at San Francisco for the Cardinals and Joe Torre gave him the only run he needed with a homer off Juan Mari-chal, who went down to his ninth defeat.

Whitworth Favorite in Tournament

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth returned to the scene of some of her greatest triumphs today in the usual role of favorite in a field of 82 gal golfers in the $50,000 Eve LPGA championship.

In her last six visits to the Pleasant Valley Country Club, the tall Texan has won four times, including the LPGA title in 1967, and '71.

In her two losses, she bowed to Sandra Post Elliott in 1968, and to Shirley Englehorn in 1970, both in playoffs for the LPGA crown.

"When I get here I just feel I'm going to play well, and that's why I probably have such a good track record," Miss Whitworth said Wednesday after shooting "one or two over" par in a pro-am tuneup.

The all-time top money winner in women's golf, Miss Whitworth checked in with her annual comments on her game. If history repeats, she is almost a sure bet to conquer par-73 on the 6,130-yard layout.

"I've been hitting the ball good, but I've had trouble concentrating all the time."

Smiling Jack to Run in Belmont Stakes

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've got them scared and I know it," says trainer Ralph McElvain who will send Smiling Jack into Saturday's Belmont Stakes against the likes of Riva Ridge and Key To The Mint.

"I think I have an advantage," McElvain said Wednesday in assessing his Jersey Derby winner's chances in the 1½-mile final race of the Triple Crown.

"They've tried one another," said McElvain, speaking of Riva Ridge and Key To The Mint, the Belmont favorites, who have met four times. "I know what they can do but they don't know what I can do."

But the veteran trainer was overlooking the Preakness Prep May 13 in which Key To The Mint finished first and Smiling Jack third, beaten four lengths.

McElvain noted that race was only the second start for Smiling Jack since he tore his left eyelid three-quarters of the way off in an accident in his stall April 15.

"We beat him in the Preakness Prep" was trainer Elliott Burch's comment as he relaxed after watching Paul Mellon's Key To The Mint work six furlongs in a sizzling 1:10.

For McElvain, Smiling Jack, owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. William Harder, will be his first starter in a Triple Crown race in 43 years as a trainer.

Smiling Jack—he was named by Mrs. Harder after a friend who once won a smiling contest—was winless in two starts as a 2-year-old and has five victories, two seconds and two thirds in 13 starts this year. After the Preakness Prep, the son of Beau Gar-Fool's Dame won a 1 1-16-mile allowance race by five lengths and then scored by seven lengths in the 1 1-8-mile Jersey Derby.

The Belmont Park handicapper made Meadow Stable's Riva Ridge, the Kentucky Derby winner, the early favorite in a possible field of 12 3-year-olds for the $125,000-added classic with a scheduled post time of 5:35 p.m., EDT.

Television coverage is set from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. by CBS.

Players Practice in Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lee Trevino, Gary Player and Tom Weiskopf would rather play than practice the week before the U.S. Open golf championship.

That's why they are here this week for the $150,000 IVB Philadelphia Golf Classic at Whitemarsh Valley Country Club. Weiskopf is the defending champion.

While Jack Nicklaus is spending the week practicing at the Pebble Beach Golf Links in California, site of next week's Open, Trevino, Player and Weiskopf joined 141 other golfers today in the first round of the 72-hole test over Whitemarsh's 6,708-yard, par 36-36-72 layout in suburban Philadelphia.

What's the best way to prepare for the Open?

"Don't drink the week before," said Trevino, who won the Open last year in an 18-hole playoff with Nicklaus at the Merion Golf Club in Pennsylvania.

Trevino then turned serious and said, "One way to get ready is to play competitive. You can play too many practice rounds, get stale, tired of the course."

Bob Lesslie Headed for Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Lesslie, the No. 1 pick in the secondary phase of the major league baseball draft, is headed for a possible future with the Los Angeles Dodgers carrying two monkeys on his back—Pete Broberg and Burt Hooton.

Broberg, a Dartmouth product, and Hooton, out of the University of Texas, were the 1-2 picks last year in the secondary phase, and by the end of the season were pitching in the majors with Washington, now Texas, and the Chicago Cubs.

Undoubtedly the same will be expected of Lesslie, a 6-foot-3, 210-pound fireballing right-hander out of Kansas State University who is headed for Spokane, Wash. of the Northwest League. Whether Lesslie has the same kind of potential as Broberg and Hooton remains questionable.

It's Lesslie's hard throwing that called him to the Dodgers' attention, much more than the 6-3 record he compiled for Kansas State last season. Indications are that Lesslie, who is a converted third baseman, needs schooling.

In all, 58 players were selected in the secondary phase in which players previously drafted who did not sign were re-drafted. The secondary phase was completed Wednesday. After the 24 clubs finished the regular phase by taking 791 players.

Pitchers were the prime commodity sought in the secondary phase and a dozen were selected on the first round, including three of the top four.

The No. 2 pick was an infielder, Rich Dauer of San Bernardino, Calif., Junior College, who was taken by Cleveland. The New York Mets and Texas then went for pitchers, Michael McNeilly of Longview, Wash., and Ron Bell of Fullerton, Calif., Junior College, respectively.

Sinatra Figures in Crime Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — After being snubbed on its "invitation" to Frank Sinatra, a congressional committee will now subpoena the show business figure to tell what he knows about organized crime in sports.

Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., chairman of the House Select Committee on Crime, said Sinatra had agreed originally to appear Wednesday for testimony on his role as one-time vice president of Berkshire Downs race track in Hancock, Mass.

Pepper said Sinatra will now be subpoenaed. Committee sources said the singer-actor would be called to testify on July 18. Sinatra was reported at races in England on Wednesday.

Today, however, Sinatra was reported to have dropped out of sight in London.

The committee may not have had Sinatra, but it had two vocal witnesses on opposite sides of the track on the subject of legalized gambling.

"People today do not view gambling as a matter of moral concern but primarily as a source of entertainment," said Howard "Howie the Horse" Samuels, head of New York City's Off-Track Betting Corp.

To back it up, Samuels reported first-year profits of $15 million, of which 80 per cent went to the city and 20 per cent to state government.

"If government is truly serious about combating organized crime, we must begin to compete," he declared, adding that a survey done for OTB showed that its legal betting shops had reduced the number of bets placed with illegal bookmakers.

The man on the other side of the issue, Dist. Atty. William Cahn of Long Island's Nassau County, couldn't have disagreed more.

Legalized gambling, he said, would have no major effect on organized crime, but it would have an effect on organized sports.

"Professional and collegiate sports are a way of life in this country," Cahn maintained.

THREE CHEERS FOR DAD!

Orioles Snap Five Game Losing Streak

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Earl Weaver thinks some of his Baltimore Orioles may be over the hill. But the players would like to think they're over the hump.

"The Over-the-Hill Gang is coming back," yelled Paul Blair after the Orioles snapped a five-game losing streak Wednesday night with a convincing 11-2 drubbing of Minnesota.

Coupled with Detroit's 5-1 loss to California, the victory left the Orioles only three games behind the Tigers in the American League despite a 22-2 record.

Elsewhere, Oakland trounced Cleveland 10-4, the Chicago White Sox nipped Boston 2-1, the New York Yankees defeated Texas 7-5 and Kansas City edged Milwaukee 5-4.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs whipped Los Angeles 5-1, Cincinnati downed the New York Mets 6-3, Philadelphia shaded Houston 3-1, St. Louis silenced San Francisco 6-0, Montreal took Atlanta 5-2 and, in a twilight doubleheader, Pittsburgh bombed San Diego 12-5 in the opener, then made it a sweep with an 18-inning 1-0 victory in the nightcap.

Weaver made his "over the hill" crack following Tuesday night's fifth consecutive setback and the Orioles wasted little time in reacting. Bobby Grich, one of three youngsters in the line-up, socked a three-run homer off Minnesota's Jim Perry in the first inning and Pat Dobson scattered 10 hits to even his record at 6-6.

Among the veterans, Dave Johnson drove in two runs while Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson each delivered two hits. The explosion rekindled dreams of a fourth straight pennant.

The Tigers, meanwhile, were held to three hits by California's fireballing Nolan Ryan. The Angels jumped on Joe Niekro for four runs in the fifth inning on singles by Ken McMullen, Leroy Stanton and John Stephenson, a double by Leo Cardenas and Sandy Alomar's two-run single off reliever Chuck Seelbach.

Home runs by Joe Rudi and Mike Epstein in the first inning started the A's on their way to victory as Ken Holtzman, although touched for 14 hits, joined Cleveland's Gaylord Perry and Detroit's Mickey Lolich as the only nine-game winners in the majors.

The A's have a five-game lead in the AL West over Minnesota and Chicago. The White Sox kept pace by edging Boston behind the pitching of Stan Bahnsen and Rich Gossage.

The Yankees pounded Texas' Jim Shellenback and Bill Gogolewski for six runs in the third inning on consecutive singles by Steve Kline, Horace Clarke, Rusty Torres, Bobby Murcer, Roy White and Felipe Alou and Thurman Munson's sacrifice fly and then held off the Rangers.

Kansas City came from behind twice to nip Milwaukee, the last time on Amos Otis' two-run double in the eighth following Lou Piniella's single, Ed Kirkpatrick's double and an intentional pass to Cookie Rojas.

Milwaukee had taken a 4-3 lead in the top of the eighth on George Scott's double and a single by Ellie Rodriguez. The Brewers got off to a 3-0 lead as Dave May drove in two runs with a double and triple and Johnny Briggs homered. The Royals got two in the sixth on Steve Hovley's run-producing triple and a wild pitch and tied it in the seventh on Richie Scheinblum's pinch single.

Arkansan Blows Four Stroke Lead

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Stan Lee of State College of Arkansas blew to a four-over-par 75 Wednesday and fell from first to 10th in the NAIA golf tournament here.

Lee began Tuesday with a two-under-par 69 to tie for first with Tom Newlin of U.S. International.

Johnson Saw Him First, Says Pryor

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor said Wednesday night that Jim Johnson of Conway gave him some unsolicited advice a few weeks ago on how to make sharp attacks on Sen. John L. McClellan.

Pryor said he didn't follow the advice.

The congressman said Johnson had done a "sudden about-face" by producing a letter critical of Pryor and urging Arkansans to work to re-elect McClellan.

The letter characterized Pryor as "a glamour boy" and termed his supporters "a mess of trash." The letter was addressed to, "Dear Friends," and about 1,000 copies reportedly were circulated.

Pryor commented on the letter during a question-and-answer show on a Fort Smith television station Wednesday night. Later he told newsmen that he met Johnson about six weeks ago in a barber shop while campaigning in Conway.

He said that Johnson, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee, was suggesting that he publicly question McClellan about alleged conflicts of interest. Pryor said the alleged conflicts of interest mentioned by Johnson had not come up in the campaign at that time.

Pryor said that Johnson told him, "I didn't say it was so, I just said that you should ask him about it."

The congressman said he disregarded Johnson's advice.

Radio Free Europe Gets 38 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to authorize $38,520,000 for Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee, by a 10 to 3 vote Wednesday, overrode the opposition of its chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and of Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

The total was the amount sought by the administration for the two stations. They broadcast news and opinion into Eastern Europe from transmitters in Western Europe.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, failed 9 to 4, on a motion to cut the authorization to $36 million. Church was joined by Mansfield, Fulbright and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., in voting for the cut.

The two stations were financed for about 20 years by the Central Intelligence Agency, but widespread opposition to concealed CIA influence moved Congress to require public financing last year.

Helen Bottel

Helen Help Us!

'Habit' No Basis for Marriage

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

I'm engaged to a guy I always thought was wonderful. We're both 17, and have been going together for two years.

Lately we've been fighting over stupid things and there's a barrier between us, even when we make up. An example? He got mad because I started to hold his hand in public.

He used to be kind and considerate—and maybe I was nicer, too. Now when I ask what's wrong, he says, "I don't want to talk about it." He's like his father—too, too much pride, wanting to be in the spotlight. He had a bad family life, and used to say I was the only person who ever did him any good, but now I'm lucky to have him say anything nice to me.

I know we've both had pressures of graduation, finding jobs, worrying about money and the draft. But I'm never happy any more. Do you suppose marriage will solve the problem?—CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: Not happy? Key statement! If there is a barrier, there's a reason behind it—something definitely wrong that could destroy the relationship. No communication? No understanding. No helping? No caring. . . And downhill all the rest of the way. Insist on a real talk, even if it hurts. And—

"Don't marry out of 'habit'—'cause you THINK you love him. People change a lot in two years, especially between 15 and 17." —SUE

DEAR CON:

Getting married to solve a non-communication problem is like taking soda for a bleeding ulcer. You might stop the pain for a little while, but it will come back twice as strong until it kills the relationship.

Longtime engagements sometimes end in disastrous marriages because neither party has the guts to say, "Look, we've outgrown each other." Perhaps your b.f. is trying to say it without words. Ask him!—HELEN

DEAR HELEN AND SUE: My youngest brother is getting married in July. I was chosen as matron of honor, being his only sister.

The problem is my children: I have seven. Those from age 17 up are invited, but my four youngest aren't. I thought my oldest son, age 15, could take my husband's place, as he doesn't go out, but even he is being left out, I'm now told.

So, because only my so-called adult children are included, I have decided to drop out of the wedding party. After all, my brother is uncle to all of them. Am I right?—MRS. T.W.

DEAR MRS. W.: Wrong! If wedding lists included all the children of all the relatives and friends there might be no room for the principals. A bride must sometimes limit the invitations even though she feels badly about it.

Don't cause hard feelings by dropping out of the party.—HELEN

DEAR MRS. W.:

Who is this wedding for? You and your family, or the two getting married? Let the bride make her own plans and don't make it tough for her. There'll be plenty of time later on for your younger kids to attend weddings.—SUE

DEAR RAP:

I asked this girl to marry me and she said she'd rather be just friends. The next girl I asked said she had to take care of her little sisters for three more years. The third said she was going on to college and the fourth just said "No." All this since January. Please, if you have the address of a girl who might be interested in a nice, marriage-minded guy, would you send it?—SAM

DEAR "MARRYIN' " SAM:

No! You're too anxious!—HELEN

DEAR SAM:

Do you propose to EVERY girl you meet? No wonder they turn you down!—SUE

Double Talk and Politics Are Inseparably Linked

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Double talk is the natural language of politics.

Double talk is the art of saying one thing while thinking another. Politics is the art of doing one thing while saying you'll do another. Thus, the two are inseparably linked.

For the benefit of the uninitiated, here are a few typical examples of political double talk. In each case the speaker's quoted remark is followed by translation of its real meaning:

"Since you're my campaign manager, Mike, I appreciate your suggestions as to what we should concentrate on trying to push over from here on in." —You just raise the money, Mike. Big Daddy will raise the issue.

"I wouldn't stoop to low and unprincipled practices for the mere sake of winning public office." —Anybody too noble to roll up his sleeves and start stuffing ballot boxes doesn't belong in this game.

"I'd be the last man to say that anybody can fool all the public all the time." —But I'll always be the first guy willing to try to.

"All I can say is that if this campaign, which started on an exalted note, is to degenerate into filthy mud slinging." —Please pass me a bigger bucket of it.

"I tell the world now that I will make no political deal whatsoever with my opponent." —Guarantee me the vice presidency, and I'll throw in my towel right now.

"As a rich man himself, my opponent has no worry where his next contribution is coming from. He can always tap himself." —I wish I was a sugar tree, so I could too. But all I give is sap.

"My opponent's unsavory behavior stinks to the holy eye of heaven." —I wish my speechwriter would quit mixing his metaphors. Even I know that eyes can't smell.

"No one can deny that since the federal highway program shifted gears, it has rolled up a lot of mileage under its belt." —I'm not just going to fire my speechwriter: I'm going to kill him.

"Time may dim the luster of some of the issues I have raised, the years may throw dust on the present importance of the problems I have brought to your attention, but one thing about this campaign will never be forgotten in the pages of our national political chronicles." —The fact is that it raised the fattest public yawn in history.

Double talk is politics aloud, politics aloud is all double talk.

A thin white stream of smoke coming from the Vatican chimney announces to the world that a new Pope has been elected.

Liquor License for Hospital

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Operators of Providence Hospital have asked the state for a liquor license.

Wine has been served to some patients since the hospital opened about a year ago, but hospital officials said the permit was sought at the suggestion of the state.

Two Races on Ballot for Runoff

Candidates names have been drawn for positions on the June 13 run-off ballot.

Two races will be on the Hempstead County ballot: For U.S. Senator and for Hempstead County Judge.

The general primary ballot will look like this:

For U.S. Senator
(Vote for one)
John L. McClellan
David Pryor

For County Judge
(Vote for one)
Carter Sutton
Finis Odum

The Howard County ballot will have two races: For U.S. Senator and for Howard County Judge. Howard County ballot will be as follows:

For U.S. Senator
(Vote for one)
John L. McClellan
David Pryor

For County Judge
Ed Reese
David Young

Nevada County will have one race: For U.S. Senator, and will look like this:

For U.S. Senator
(Vote for one)
John L. McClellan
David Pryor

Judges and clerks who served in the May 30 primary are asked to serve again on June 13 except in certain precincts where the Central committeeman has selected other election officials, because of illness, vacation, etc.

The Central Committee will meet again on Friday, June 16, at 2 p.m. in City Hall courtroom to certify the vote of June 13.

Hempstead County Convention will be held on Monday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the courtroom. Democrat state convention will be Saturday, June 24, in Barton Coliseum in Little Rock, beginning at 12 noon.

7-Up Buys Mountain Valley

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An agreement in principle has been reached for the purchase of Mountain Valley Spring Co. of Hot Springs by the 7-Up Co., officials said Wednesday.

Paul Young, 7-Up treasurer and vice president for finance, said the agreement is subject to the approval of both boards. Mountain Valley has bottled and distributed Mountain Valley Water for 100 years.

Young said the transaction would be made through an exchange of stock and that Mountain Valley would become a 7-Up subsidiary.

Young said he believed no definite announcement would be made for at least 30 days.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Old man Z called for the jack of diamonds from dummy. East produced the king and Z let it hold. The 10 was returned and Z had to play his ace.

He remarked, "When I played this hand for Sidney Lenz in a rubber bridge game in 1924 I made sure of three no-trump by playing three rounds of hearts and then leading dummy's last diamond. I discarded two clubs from dummy and two clubs and a heart from my hand. West could lead anything he wished but it didn't matter. The lead was sure to give me my ninth trick."

Unfortunately this is match-point duplicate and most other North players will have used Stayman to get to four hearts. Five hearts is unbeatable and six hearts will make if East holds the club king so I must go after everything that isn't nailed down.

After this peroration Z proceeded to enter dummy for a successful club finesse. Then he cashed the hearts and clubs to come down to a final problem of locating the queen of spades.

By this time Z had a good enough count to know that East had started with five spades. This made the odds that he would hold the queen a substantial five to two and Z picked it up to make six no-trump and a top score instead of a safe three no-trump for a bottom score.

If the level of interest rates is something that affects your finances, don't be lulled by the recent indications of easing. Economic forces that are plainly visible today are working to push them up, perhaps sharply, during the second half of the year.

They are plainly visible, at least, to Henry Kaufman, economist and partner in one of Wall Street's most prestigious firms, Salomon Brothers, an investment banking house that managed or co-managed the issuance of more than $7 billion in corporate securities last year, got that way by knowing what's going to happen next, and they have an impressive record over there of being right.

Kaufman didn't sound very cheerful about some of the economic and political developments he sees as possible in the months ahead when he spoke to the Financial Analysts Federation in New York recently. The expected credit squeeze and pressure on interest rates, he believes, may well result in some kind of direct government controls in the credit markets.

"I am convinced," he said, "that a sharp escalation in interest rates would not be tolerated during the next period of excessive economic demands." He predicted that "moral suasion" would first be tried, it's called "jaw-boning" in Washington, and that "the eventual failure of these attempts would then be followed by the introduction of formalized controls."

A principal source of inflationary pressure is swelling governmental expenditures. Combined federal, state and local spending last year amounted to 33 per cent of the country's gross national product, the value of all goods and services produced in the nation, down to the last toothpick and hair-cut. Federal spending in particular now running $20 billion in excess of the revenue from taxes makes heavy demands on the available supply of credit funds, as well as pumping up inflationary pressure.

Traditionally, when the economy begins to overheat, and inflate, those who operate the country's economic controls have allowed interest rates to rise—or forced them to—in order to tighten credit and cool things off. Kaufman sees the economy approaching such a condition in the next few months. "The stimulative impact of the federal budget is likely to continue throughout most of the fiscal year" beginning in July, and "the likely increase in short-term interest rates, together with expectations of rising inflation later this year and in 1973, will push long-term interest rates to higher ground."

The pressures could be eased and possibly drained off, Kaufman says, if the administration would "lower the budgetary profile" and curtail the stimulative deficit spending—but most Washington watchers would call that a dim hope.

What seems more likely is another set of government controls, with the authorities perhaps even directing the flow of money, deciding who needs it and who gets it. "Private decision making of all sorts may be increasingly questioned and restricted, and direct controls over both the economic and financial process might become a dominant and perhaps long-lasting feature of governmental policies," says Kaufman.

For as he observes, there have been drastic changes in political philosophy. "Actions that in the past may have been considered unwarranted limitations of economic and financial freedom are now frequently accepted as a political fact of life."

Which may in part account for the new grass-roots populism that seems to puzzle many of the politicians.

Ruth's Last Homer

Baseball's last major league player, Ruth, died May 25, 1935, at 38, in a hotel in Pittsburgh, where he had been the Boston Red Sox's star pitcher.

Steel Pen Producer

The first steel pen company in the United States was founded at Camden, N.J., by John J. Richard in 1828. It eventually grew to be the world's largest producer of steel pens, and was later acquired by the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

WORLD ALMANAC

FACTS

Animals have often been cited with helping to save human lives. One recent incident involved a grey seal that made friends with swimmers at a sea resort in West Germany. When a drowning girl cried for help, a man and a seal made a joint rescue in which the seal assisted by swimming beneath the man and girl, helping to hold them up until they reached shore. The World Almanac says.

QUICK QUIZ

- Q—Why has the Suez Canal no locks?
- A—Locks are not required because the Suez is a sea-level canal.
- Q—Does an earthworm have eyes?
- A—No, it has neither eyes nor ears, but it does have sensory cells which make it aware of light and touch.
- Q—Which state in the Union has the longest name?
- A—Rhode Island, whose official name is State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.

PAUL CHOATE

Paul Choate, Fish Biologist with the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting.

Mr. Choate has been working on the lakes and streams of Southwest Arkansas for the past several years and is extremely knowledgeable concerning the condition of the most popular fishing areas. He discussed in some detail the experimental work being done at the Narrows, Millwood Lake, and Bois D'Arc Lake.

The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission is recognized in the United States as having one of the most aggressive Fish Programs in this country.

One of the latest Arkansas projects is work with the Sea Bass or Striped Bass, more commonly called Stripers. The fish, weighing 30 to 40 pounds when grown, has been converted to a fresh water fish, but, so far, will not reproduce in lakes in which they have been placed.

However, they have been hatched at the Lonoke hatchery, moved to nursery ponds near the lakes where they are to be released, and on release have been thriving in Lake Ouachita and the Narrows.

"Millwood is probably the finest fishing lake in Arkansas", said Mr. Choate, "but it has its problems, and we are trying to work them out." There is the vegetation problem which is now under better control. There are perhaps too many Blue Gills in the lake and too many rough fish.

Recently Northern Pike as well as Striped Bass have been introduced to Millwood to help correct this problem.

The most recent addition to fish varieties in Arkansas is the White Amur, a species whose natural habitat is a river between Russia and China. So far as is known Arkansas is the only state attempting to grow and develop the White Amur. This fish is a vegetation eater and has been placed in Bois D'Arc in limited quantities in the hopes of clearing much of the vegetation from the water. In two other lakes in Arkansas where this fish has been planted the vegetation problem in their waters no longer exists. This fish grows to 100 pounds when mature and is a good eating fish.

With management practices now in progress Southwest Arkansas should be a fishing Mecca for years to come.

Dr. Wallace McDowell was the only guest at Tuesday's meeting. He is a new resident of Hope, engaged in the practice of dentistry.

Blockade May Be Dampening Enemy Fire

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — One month after President Nixon ordered North Vietnam sealed off from outside military supplies, Defense Department officials see signs that enemy firepower may be slackening as a result.

While acknowledging they cannot prove any cause-and-effect link, officials cite as possible indicators: —A drop in the volume of North Vietnamese artillery shelling in South Vietnam. For example, fewer than 300 rounds hit the besieged city of An Loc one day this week. Earlier, North Vietnamese guns pumped as many as 7,000 rounds into that provincial capital in a day's time.

—A decrease in surface-to-air-missile firings. Pentagon figures indicate a steep decline in SAM firings against U.S. planes throughout North Vietnam, from 317 in one April week to 39 in a recent week.

Senior military officers also suggest the mining of North Vietnamese ports and intense bombing of railroad lines from China may have caused enough of a supply pinch to delay the long-expected climatic attack on the city of Hue. North Vietnamese attacks have been stalled elsewhere in South Vietnam in recent weeks.

U.S. experts are convinced that the North Vietnamese had to stockpile substantial amounts of ammunition and material in South Vietnam and the area just above the demilitarized zone before springing their offensive in late March.

But officials say the cutoff of any major new supply flow into North Vietnam from Russia and China, and the systematic bombing of internal North Vietnamese supply lines leading toward the fronts, may have prompted Hanoi's field commanders to conserve ammunition.

According to U.S. intelligence estimates, the movement of fresh war supplies down into the lower North Vietnamese panhandle has been slashed from about 300 tons a day early in the offensive to only 18 tons a day recently.

It was just one month ago, May 8, that Nixon announced he had concluded that "Hanoi must be denied the weapons and supplies it needs to continue the aggression" against South Vietnam. On Nixon's orders, entrances to seven North Vietnamese ports were plugged with air-dropped mines. About 25 Soviet and other communist-flag freighters and fuel tankers then bound for North Vietnam were reported to have turned away. No ships have tried to run the mine barrier since, officials say.

U.S. warships blocked coastal shipping and shelled military targets on shore. North Vietnamese rivers were mined to hamper supply-barge movements, and U.S. warplanes have sunk or damaged hundreds of such craft.

The White House sent U.S. planes on up to 280 strikes a day against North Vietnamese railroads and railroad yards, bridges, truck parks, petroleum-storage dumps, power plants, barracks, and other war-related facilities across North Vietnam, including targets close to Hanoi and Haiphong, the nation's principal port.

Thunderstorms hit Arizona and the Southern California mountains and deserts northward into Southern Idaho.

In Arizona, a thunderstorm Wednesday dropped 0.6 inch of rain on Phoenix, ending the city's record 160 days without measurable precipitation. The old mark of 143 dry days was set in 1960.

A few showers and thunderstorms also freckled the Mississippi River valley and the eastern Gulf Coast.

Temperatures at dawn ranged from 43 at Concord, N.H., to 80 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Personal Mention

Four 1972 graduates of Hope High School entered Central Business College of Texarkana to study business courses to become executive secretaries. They are: Mrs. Mae Alice Sampson, Ruby Hopson, Deborah Coleman, and Gwen Newton. These four young ladies will be studying business math, business law, bookkeeping, shorthand, and several other courses required to become executive secretaries. During their time in college they will share an apartment in Texarkana.

Word was received recently that Specialist 4 Clyde Sampson, Jr., was promoted to Sergeant. He entered the Army in February of 1971. He is presently stationed with the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina. He is the son of Clyde Sampson, Sr. of Mineral Springs. His wife is the former Mae Alice Johnson of Hope.

Specialist 4 Johnny L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Johnson of Hope has completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La. He is a graduate of the United States Army School of Armor at Ft. Knox, Kentucky. He returned home on a twenty day leave to visit his family prior to leaving for a tour of duty in Germany. Prior to entering the service, he was employed by Safeway Stores in Hope.

Thunderstorms hit Arizona and the Southern California mountains and deserts northward into Southern Idaho.

In Arizona, a thunderstorm Wednesday dropped 0.6 inch of rain on Phoenix, ending the city's record 160 days without measurable precipitation. The old mark of 143 dry days was set in 1960.

Major Fire Hits Kennett, Missouri

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — Flames destroyed or heavily damaged stores on the east side of the Kennett town square Wednesday night.

Two firemen were injured fighting the five-hour blaze and three policemen suffered minor injuries.

Fire broke out about 7 p.m. at the rear of the Sterling Variety Store in the middle of the block. After pouring water on the building for about an hour, firemen thought they had the blaze under control.

But brisk winds caused the fire to spread southward to the two-story Shelton office building, which had a sporting goods store on the first floor. The building was gutted and the nearby Hamra's Department Store heavily damaged.

The fire also spread northward to destroy the Bickerstaff Jewelry Store and caused heavy damage to the Montgomery Ward Store. Firemen played water on the adjacent City Hall to protect it.

Fire units from the bootheel town of Hayti, Mo., and Malden responded and help was also sent from the Arkansas towns of Hector, Blytheville, and Jonesboro.

John Matheny of the Hayti department suffered smoke inhalation and Glen Earl Harris of the Kennett fire department suffered a broken arm when a hose broke loose.
